

March 30, 2014

It gives me great pleasure to announce the promotion of Pat Rossetto to President of Duro Dyne Corporation. Pat will be reporting directly to me, and will have full responsibility for running all components of the company.

Pat began working for Duro Dyne part-time, when he assisted his father, Primo Rossetto, Duro Dyne's then-National Sales Manager. He drove the machinery demo van around the country, demonstrating the latest innovations in Pinspotter technology, insulation cutting, and adhesive application. In 1987, Pat became a full-time employee of Duro Dyne as Territory Sales Engineer for Florida and Georgia.

After becoming one of Duro Dyne's top DuroZone salespeople, Pat took on the position as DuroZone Product Manager, and relocated to Cincinnati. Due to his great enthusiasm and hard work, Pat was the perfect choice to pilot our next new product line, Dyn-O-Mate. In 2011, upon Paul Thompson's retirement as Duro Dyne's Vice President of Sales, it was a natural for Pat to take on the position, following in his father's footsteps. He relocated to New York and, since that time, has built our Sales Department into an extraordinarily well organized, finely managed, team.

Because of Pat's strength in sales, incredible knowledge of our products and the marketplace, excellent management skills, and great ability to work well with others, including senior management and all personnel throughout the company, I am pleased to promote Pat to President. In addition to his expanded overall management of the company, Pat will continue supervising the National Sales Managers, and our international sales organization.

Please join me in congratulating Pat on his promotion. I am sure we all look forward to working with him in his new position.
